OCTOBER 2018

From the DANWA President:

Greetings Friends & Neighbors,

Congratulations to Police Chief Steve Robinson and Fire Chief Brandon Pursell for their recent promotions. It's always good to see individuals rise to the top within their own departments.

We had a great turnout at our September 10th DANWA meeting at the new fire house. Chief Pursell gave a talk about the facility followed by a Q&A session. After the meeting, Chief Pursell led us on a tour of the fire house which included more Q&A. It is truly a grand facility. You really want to make it a point to attend the official Grand Opening which will be October 5th at 1 pm.

Chief Robinson will make an introductory appearance at our October 8th DANWA general meeting. If you haven't yet met him, here's your opportunity.

As I'm composing this page, hurricane Florence is battering our east coast. While she did weaken just before making landfall, the amount of rain and flooding was still horrendous. By the time you read this, recovery efforts will be well underway and preparations for the next storm will also be underway. I trust that you are wary of the unsolicited requests for financial assistance to victims. I understand that pictures and stories of hungry and unsheltered children, elderly and pets will really pull at our heart-strings, but be wary. Don't give over the phone unless you originally initiated the call. I suggest that you make your donations to local organizations that you are familiar with. Scammers know that we are a compassionate and generous society and will use every trick or scam they can think of to grab up your money. Don't let them make you a victim.

If you donate your time or energy in support of DANWA and plan on attending the Appreciation Dinner on October 18th, don't forget to RSVP Pat Satterwhite at 405-412-7925, ASAP.

Let's fill our meeting room on October 8th. See you then. May God bless keep you and yours.

Just a little bit of volunteering won't hurt much. Some blocks only have 20 homes to deliver to, most are less than 25 homes. If you can help with any of these please contact any of the District Captains above. It's really not hard to volunteer one day out of the month and it proves to be good exercise by delivering the newsletter door to door for your particular block or blocks. You might even meet your neighbors.

You don't have to be a member to volunteer to deliver the newsletters.

Thought this was interesting. I haven't confirmed the calculations.

THIS makes you wonder...

Ever since the advent of electric cars, the REAL cost per mile of those things has never been discussed. All you ever heard was the mpg in terms of gasoline, with nary a mention of the cost of electricity to run it. This is the first article I've ever seen and tells the story pretty much as I expected it to.

Electricity has to be one of the least efficient ways to power things yet they're being shoved down our throats... Glad somebody finally put engineering and math to paper.

At a neighborhood BBQ:

I was talking to a neighbor, a BC Hydro executive. I asked him how that renewable thing was doing. He laughed, then got serious. If you really intend to adopt electric vehicles, he pointed out, you had to face certain realities. For example, a home charging system for a Tesla requires 75 amp service. The average house is equipped with 100 amp service. On our small street (approximately 25 homes), the electrical infrastructure would be unable to carry more than 3 houses with a single Tesla, each. For even half the homes to have electric vehicles, the system would be wildly over-loaded.

This is the elephant in the room with electric vehicles... Our residential infrastructure cannot bear the load. So as our genius elected officials promote this nonsense, not only are we being urged to buy these things and replace our reliable, cheap generating systems with expensive, new windmills and solar cells, but we will also have to renovate our entire delivery system! This latter "investment" will not be revealed until we're so far down this dead end road that it will be presented with an 'OOPS!' and a shrug.

If you want to argue with a green person over cars that are eco-friendly, just read the following. Note: If you ARE a green person, read it anyway. It's enlightening.

Eric test drove the Chevy Volt at the invitation of General Motors ... and he writes, "For four days in a row, the fully charged battery lasted only 25 miles before the Volt switched to the reserve gasoline engine." Eric calculated the car got 30 mpg including the 25 miles it ran on the battery. So, the range including the 9-gallon gas tank and the 16 kwh battery is approximately 270 miles.

It will take you 4-1/2 hours to drive 270 miles at 60 mph. Then add 10 hours to charge the battery and you have a total trip time of 14.5 hours. In a typical road trip your average speed (including charging time) would be 20 mph.

According to General Motors, the Volt battery holds 16 kwh of electricity. It takes a full 10 hours to charge a drained battery. The cost for the electricity to charge the Volt is never mentioned so I looked up what I pay for electricity. I pay approximately (it varies with amount used and the seasons) $1.16 per kwh. $16 \text{ kwh} \times $1.16 \text{ per kwh} = \18.56 to charge the battery. $$18.56 \text{ per charge} \div 25 \text{ miles} = \0.74 per mile to operate the Volt using the battery. Compare this to a similar size car with a gasoline engine that gets only 32 mpg. $$3.19 \text{ per gallon} \div 32 \text{ mpg} = \0.10 per mile .

The gasoline powered car costs about $20,000 while the Volt costs $46,000+... So the American Government wants loyal Americans not to do the math, but simply pay three times as much for a car, that costs more than seven times as much to run, and takes three times longer to drive across the country.

NEWS FLASH—People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) has taken things to the next level. They have successfully petitioned Nabisco, (the cookie company) to revamp the packaging of animal crackers. The circus animals will no longer be shown in cages but rather will be displayed wild and free as in their natural habitat. WAIT A MINUTE, these are cookies. I supposed the next thing that PETA will claim is that biting the head of the lion, gorilla, or elephant is somehow inhumane. R. M.
